What Makes Engaging Inclusion Different?

Engaging Inclusion provides clear direction to move your organization forward, based on your present inclusion strategy. Examine why previous inclusion initiatives were not sustainable or applicable, and encourage authentic conversations about difference and diversity. Address how diversity affects change management by recognizing your organization's differences as strengths that will result in innovative and effective change.

Diversity is a unique way of thinking, moving, engaging, believing, or being. We will address key barriers such as experience, skills, and language while improving diversity awareness. All training occurs in a safe environment where we can honestly acknowledge the connection between fear, diversity, and inclusivity.

"Engagement is an outcome of diversity and inclusion. For those organizations which have embraced the idea that improving levels of engagement is a pathway to business performance, but have reached an engagement plateau, these findings provide a new avenue of action."
 (Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Ltd., 2013)

Have Your Employees Asking, "What's Next?"

Engaging Inclusion prepares you for the two 3-day (21-hour) certificate programs (Policy2People and SenseABLE Services). Although not required, we recommend you take Engaging Inclusion before the 3-day certificate programs as it provides your team with an introduction to play terminology, authentic conversations about difference and diversity, and how to identify key strategies to inclusive engagement within your organization.
